Benson Valley.

The boys are all jubilant over the little rain which fell last week, thinking they will have more money, when the tobacco crops are sold, with which to go to Jeff.

Miss Mattie Conway has returned from a week's visit to her aunt in Frankfort. Her aunt and cousin returned home with her.

Miss Annie Choute, of Bellepoint, visited Miss Anna Sheets last week.

Miss Annie Bradley is visiting friends in Louisville this week. Sydney is looking very sad.

Miss Prudie Hulet visited Misses Ella and Sarah Sudduth last Sunday.

Mr. Mike Ryan and family visited his sister Sunday last.

Mr. J. Robinson visited Benson Sunday last.

Miss Lillie Conway will make a short visit to Henry county this week.

The many friends of Mr. Sam Hulet will be glad to learn that he has so far recovered as to be able to return home.

The foreman on the Short-line has been sent to fill the position of section boss, the present incumbent being very ill.

Mrs. E. L. Sudduth, who has been very ill for some time, is reported to be some better at this writing.

Misses Annie Moore and Mint Vaughn visited their aunt Sunday last.

There was a very interesting game of base ball played at the home grounds of the Benson Valley boys last Saturday between the Benson Valleys and the South Frankfort boys, the score standing 7 to 11 in favor of the Benson Valleys. Boys, you need not come out here with the intention of beating the Benson Valleys, for they can not be beaten. When the pitcher and catcher get up there and the catcher says "throw close to him, but don't hit him; if you do he will never see his first base," and the pitcher draws back his arm, whiz goes the ball, the batter jumps out of the way, the umpire says strike, one, two, three, and out, you won't be in it. That's the way they play. They have played eight games and lost only one, and that through a mistake. DABBY.

John S. Edwards.

Of Adams, N. Y., makes the following sworn statement: Kenyon & Thomas. This is to certify what I know your wonderful medicine, Dr. Hale's Household Ointment, will do in cases of pneumonia. Last winter my mother, who is 75 years of age, was sick unto death with pneumonia. Both lungs were badly involved. The attending physician said she must die. As a last resort we commenced using your Dr. Hale's Household Ointment, applying it freely and thoroughly to the chest, keeping the lungs covered with hot flannels. She soon began to improve and in twelve hours the crisis was passed and she was out of danger and is alive and well to-day. Your grand grand-son, JOHN S. EDWARDS. Sworn and subscribed before me, WM. H. TAYLOR, Notary Public. For sale at Carpenter's South Side Drug Store.

To the Voters of Franklin County.

Under an act, entitled "An Act to establish Magisterial Districts," approved July 20, 1892, it became my duty, as Judge of the Franklin County Court, on the first Monday in August, 1892, to appoint what is styled in the act "Justice District Commissioners." The commissioners appointed, as directed by said act, were P. C. Towles, M. L. Crutcher and D. M. Woodson, who submitted their report in due form, dividing the county into five magisterial districts. Said report and the record thereof may be found in the office of the clerk of the Franklin County Court. The act under which they were appointed further provides that at the next county court, after the filing of their report, which in our county will be Monday, Sept. 6, 1892, any citizen of the county aggrieved may file exceptions thereto and thereupon the county court shall fix a day for hearing and dispose of the same as it may deem proper. The acts passed by the present Legislature relative to magisterial districts providing that each voting precinct there shall be as nearly as practicable 300 voters in each precinct, and in no event to be more than three hundred and fifty, the basis to be the number of votes cast at the last election for Presidential electors, and under said acts it is my duty as County Judge, without the aid of commissioners, to divide the magisterial districts into election precincts; complying with the requirements that a magisterial district line shall not cross a voting precinct line, and that in each voting precinct there

Free from all impurity.

Royal Baking Powder

Is the only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be free from all impurities and absolutely pure. This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove all the tartrate of lime. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal."

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. Government, who made the analyses for the New York State Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, says of the purity and wholesomeness of the "Royal":

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substance.

(Late U. S. Gov't Chemist) "E. G. LOVE, Ph. D."

Prof. Love's tests, and the recent official tests by the United States and Canadian Governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power.

shall be as nearly as practicable 300 and not to exceed 350 voters.

Under such requirements any reasonable man can readily discover the difficulty, and in fact the utter impossibility, of making an arrangement of the matter wholly satisfactory to everyone, and I am aware of the fact that considerable complaint has been made.

In response to criticisms, I can do no more than suggest that the law is imperative. In compliance with the law, as I understand it, I have undertaken to discharge the duty imposed upon me, consulting as much as practicable, under the law governing, the interest and convenience of the voters.

The new Constitution, makes elections much less frequent, and I trust that upon a trial under the present arrangement citizens who are now inclined to complain may be reconciled or at least be fair enough to place the responsibility for their inconvenience with the law makers where it properly belongs.

In order that there may be a free expression and ascertainment of the choice of the people in the various precincts as to the location of their voting places, I should be pleased to make appointments, upon request, to hold in the precincts in such times as may be agreed upon and hear suggestions in regard to necessary changes.

Respectfully,
B. G. WILLIAMS,
County Judge.
Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 17, 1892.

Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure

Is a purely vegetable remedy prepared from rare medicinal plants, a perfect remedy for coughs, colds, hoarseness, loss of voice, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all the first stages of consumption, allays all soreness of the lungs and chest, and gives perfect satisfaction. It is the greatest medicine of the age to strengthen the lung tissue. 25 and 50c. per bottle, at Carpenter's South Side Drug store.

Republican Meetings.

LEXINGTON, Aug. 17th, 1892. The Republican voters of Franklin county are requested to meet in their respective voting precincts at 2 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, September 2d, 1892, for the purpose of electing members of the Republican County Committee; each voting precinct being entitled to not less than one member of said committee. The election to be by ballot or viva voce, as agreed upon by the Republicans of each voting precinct when assembled.

This call is made necessary by reason of the failure on the part of Chairman E. M. Drane to make a call for the re-organization of the Republican County Committee as provided by the Constitution and By-laws (Page 11 and 12) adopted by the Republican State Convention assembled in Lexington, Ky., May 20th, 21st and 22d, 1891.

R. A. HANCOCK,
Chairman 7th Congressional District. Buggies, carriages and harness repaired by the Kentucky and Harness Company. 15-16.

A Slanderous Report.

Some time ago Mr. John S. Pierce, of Peak's Mill, took from the Baptist Orphans' Home, in Louisville, a boy by the name of Curtis Lawrence to raise, and last June the boy, becoming dissatisfied, ran away. Mr. Pierce tried to find him but failed, and recently busy bodies, who are found in every community—too cowardly to come out openly and make the charge—have been secretly circulating a report that the boy was foully dealt with or secretly put out of the way by Mr. Pierce—a charge which no one who knows him will for a moment believe, yet it is causing him great annoyance, and he will make it exceedingly warm for the author if he could be found. He has been advertising in the Louisville papers for information of the boy's whereabouts, and his advertisement also appears in this issue. He has received the following letter in reply to one of inquiry, written to the Matron of the Home:

LOUISVILLE, KY., August 13, 1892.
Mr. John S. Pierce, Peak's Mill, Ky.

Your letter of the 10th to Miss Hollingsworth to hand, and she requests me to answer and say that we have no idea of Curtis Lawrence's whereabouts. Had not heard of his running away. We are very sorry, as he has certainly made a great mistake. As he is now large enough to make his own way, all you can do is to let him go, as you have done your duty by him. His mother was in Kansas the last we heard of her. We do not know her address. We hope Curtis will return and be a good boy.

Respectfully yours,
W. G. WELLER.

During the epidemic of flux in this county, in 1883, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the remedy. I have been selling patent medicines for the past ten years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of diarrhoea and flux than any other medicine I have ever handled. J. H. Benham, Druggist, Golconda, Pope Co., Ill. Over five hundred bottles of the remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic referred to. It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will certify that it saved their lives. In four other complaints this remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Jayle, Druggist. 48-41.

They Have Gone.

The Legislature took a recess on Tuesday, after being in session for 231 days, until November 16th. A large portion of the session was devoted to the framing of the Revenue and Corporation bills, and on the day before the adjournment the Governor sent in messages vetoing both those bills and the bill extending the Geological Survey, together with others of minor importance. There was an effort made by the friends of the Governor to have his vetoes sustained, but the time was too short and they were laid over until after the recess for consideration. In the meantime the people of the State are discussing the matter and causing the Legislature and the Governor.

HUDSON, HUMPHRIES & CASSELL!

Green Clay Smith Dead.

Green Clay Smith, Jr., youngest son of Gen. Green Clay Smith, died Wednesday morning at the home of his parents in Washington City, after an illness of eight weeks with typhoid fever. He was born in this city about eighteen years ago, while his father was pastor of the Baptist Church, and had grown up to be quite a promising young man, holding at the time of his death a position under his cousin, Major Green Clay Goodloe, Paymaster in the Navy, which paid him eighteen hundred dollars a year. He gave promise of being the stay and support of his parents in their declining years, and the loss of their youngest born—their Benjamin—will be a heavy blow to Gen. Smith and wife, and the hearts of their many friends here go out in deepest sympathy to them in their great affliction.

We are requested to call the attention of the proper authorities to a plank in the floor of the sidewalk on the upper side of the St. Clair street bridge. It is about one-third of the way over, going from the north side, and stands up an inch or more above those surrounding it, and is dangerous to persons passing over it, especially at night. A lady had her ankle sprained there some time ago, which laid her up for several months, and numerous others have had their ankles turned under them in stepping on the side of it. It could be cut down with an axe in a few minutes and should be looked after at once.

Poisonous Stings.

The sting of the humble bee is unusually poisonous this year. One day last week little Lydia Payne, daughter of Mr. John W. Payne, was stung by one of them upon the foot and made very ill for several days. She was confined to bed for several days and is still suffering from the effects of the sting.

Died.

Mr. Robert B. Lewis, father of Mrs. J. B. Utterback, of this city, and a prominent and well known farmer of this county, died at his home on the Lewis Ferry pike on Sunday, after a brief illness. About two years ago his right leg had to be amputated to prevent his death from cancer and it is thought that the disease attacked his stomach. He leaves a wife and six children, all of them grown, to mourn his loss. The funeral took place Tuesday morning from his late residence, and the remains were interred in the cemetery in this city.

Died.

Mr. John Angrave, a well-known resident of this county, died at his home near Bridgeport, yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, aged about 69 years. He leaves a widow, but no children. He was an Englishman by birth, but came to this country when young, and had been a resident of this county for over forty years. His funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Southern Presbyterian Church.

The Garfield Club.

At the last meeting of the Garfield Republican League Club, the time for holding their regular meetings was changed from the second and fourth Saturday evenings of each month to the second and fourth Thursday evenings of each month. Please remember this. The next regular meeting of the Club will be held at headquarters, in the Bower building, next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The time is nearing now when the campaign will open up in earnest, and let us all come out to the meeting and take an active part.

GEO. W. RHOCK, President.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, AUGUST 20, 1892.

Base Ball.

HIGHLANDS VS. FRANKFORT.

The Highlands, of Louisville, who were announced as threatening for revenge, came up Saturday and were defeated without much effort, by the score of 15 to 2.

Montz, a pitcher who has achieved considerable reputation in the City League of Louisville, was in the box for the visitors, and the home boys found him a very easy mark, hitting him without difficulty whenever hits were needed. There were no especially noteworthy features outside of the battery work of Stagg and Davis and Barrett's fine third base play. Stagg's control of the ball was wonderful, as he neither gave a base on balls, hit a batter, nor had a wild pitch. He was especially effective when men were on bases, and had his support been a trifle better a shut-out would have been the result.

DANVILLE VS. FRANKFORT MONDAY.

The Danville team and the Frankfort crossed bats for a series of two games this week. The first was played on Monday and resulted in a easy victory for the home team. The visitors played a don't care, listless sort of ball, and the game was never in doubt at any stage. Hennessy was batted savagely for the first two innings, but after that few hits were made off him. Merchant pitched steady, effective ball to the last inning, when he ceased up and the visitors scored three runs, all they made during the game. Although the time of the game, one hour and forty-five minutes, was one of the quickest of the season, it was far from being a lively contest, and it did not evoke the least enthusiasm from the spectators. The score follows:

DANVILLE VS. FRANKFORT TUESDAY.

Tuesday's game was one of the most hotly contested ever seen at Lake Park, the scene of so many hard fought battles. From start to finish the result was wavering in doubt, and not until Frank Barrett retired Hennessy at third, on Davis' assist in the last inning, did the crowd feel sure of the victory. The home club held the lead for the greater part of the game, but this only made the uncertainty a more pleasing one, without in the least dispelling it.

The visitors' batting was the heaviest done by a visiting club this season. Conover and Douglas in particular distinguished themselves, the former making two home runs and the latter two singles, a double and a triple, although the double and triple were of the scratch order. But it was in fielding that the home boys excelled. Such a game as they put up, barring one or two instances, is rarely witnessed, even on the professional diamond. Davis' catching was of the phenomenal order, and the victory was, without disparaging anyone else, emphatically his. Stagg's box work was also good, and for the third successive game he neither gave a base on balls nor hit a batter, a feat which few, if any professionals can claim. He was very effective for the first five innings, but after that the visitors found him more easily.

The game opened up with Newman at the bat. He got his base on balls. Two passed balls gave him third, and he scored on Davis' sacrifice fly to Breckinridge. Barrett having fouled out. Stagg made a two-bagger in the second and stole third, but was left. In the third, after Phillips had fouled out, Newman again got his base on balls and stole second. Barrett made a clean hit, and when Wadsworth allowed it to pass him, he took second and Tommy scored. Davis knocked a ball to Reiman, and took first on his error. Barrett going to third. Merchant hit another grounder to Reiman, who made a fine stop, touched Davis and threw to Hennessy to complete the double, but the latter muffed the ball and Merchant was safe, while Barrett scored. Merchant kept on and reached third in safety, whence he scored a moment later on a passed ball. In the fifth Barrett got his base on balls, stole second in fine style and came home on Wadsworth's muffed Davis' fly, assisted by Reiman's wild throw to Vanwinkle. Davis was caught in an attempt to steal third.

Up to this time the boys had things pretty much their own way, the visitors having scored but twice, once in the second on Jones' hit, Phillips' error of Wintersmith's assist and Douglas' hit, and once in the fourth on Vanwinkle's hit a wild pitch and Douglas's scratch two-bagger. But in the sixth Conover opened up with a beautiful home run into the pond. This made the score pretty close, and when Douglas opened the seventh with his third hit of the game, things began to look equally. However he was obliging enough to attempt a steal of second, and was easily disposed of, Davis to Phillips. Wadsworth struck out, but Brown was given a life on Wintersmith's error of his grounder. He attempted to steal second, and took third on Davis' low throw, which went to center-field. Reiman brought him in with a hit, but was himself left at third, having stolen second and third in succession. The home boys were blanked in their half and then the fun began. Conover smote the first ball pitched him squarely on the trade-mark, and it landed just a few feet outside of Mrs. Todd's garden. Prolonged cheers greeted the gritty little pitcher as he made his second circuit, bringing in the tying run, and all hands agreed that if his club did not win it would not be his fault. After Jones and Vanwinkle were disposed of, Breckinridge made a single and scored on Douglas' fourth hit, which took a sudden bound and went over Goins' head, yielding three bases to the batter. Wadsworth struck out, and with the score 6 to 5 against them the home boys took the bat. Davis made a hit, and scored amid vociferous cheers when Wadsworth threw the ball over Hennessy's head. Merchant took second on Brown's overthrow of his grounder third on a passed ball, and Goins' sacrifice allowed him to score the winning run. Wintersmith made a hit and took second when the sphere passed Douglas, but was put out attempting to make third on Hennessy's muffed Brown's assist on Stagg's grounder. In the ninth Brown and Reiman were quickly disposed of, but Hennessy took first on Phillips' high throw of his grounder, and continued toward home. Davis, by a mad dash over all obstacles, got the ball and threw it to Barrett in time to touch the runner out at third, and the game was over. Three cheers for our noble captain!
